EXTENSION SERVICE ON "USEFUL PRODUCTS PREPARATION FOR EVERYDAY LIFE"

Objective:

To empower participants with the skills and knowledge required to prepare useful products for everyday life, specifically focusing on Phenol and Dhuna.

To enhance practical skills, promote self-sufficiency, and encourage entrepreneurial ventures among participants.

E.M.GOPALAKRISHNA KONE YADAVA WOMEN'S COLLEGE

To improve the quality of life and enhance economic opportunities within the community.

Activities Conducted:

The training session covered the entire process of Phenoil and Dhuna preparation, from the selection of raw materials to the final packaging of the products. Participants were given detailed demonstrations on the formulation and mixing techniques, emphasizing the importance of maintaining quality and safety standards. Additionally, the sessions included discussions on the environmental and health benefits of using homemade products over commercial alternatives.

The extension service component involved expert consultations where participants could seek advice on scaling up production, marketing strategies, and obtaining necessary certifications. This aspect aimed to support participants in transforming their skills into viable business opportunities.

Outcome:

The hands-on training empowered participants with practical expertise in Phenoil and Dhuna preparation, increasing their confidence and reducing household expenses. Many participants planned to start small-scale businesses. The program provided a sense of community and collaboration, promoting sustainable practices and environmental awareness. Overall, it successfully equipped participants with valuable skills and encouraged economic and environmental benefits.
