LECTURE ON "COMMERCE AND ACCOUNTANCY"

Objective:

The Faculty of Commerce and Accountancy at EMGYWC has planned to organize an extension service titled "Empowering Young Minds: Commerce and Accountancy in Action" for school children. The primary objective is to enhance their financial literacy, stimulate their interest in commerce and accountancy, and demonstrate their real-world applications.

Programme Outcomes:

The lecture was highly interactive that booster up key concepts such as basic Book keeping, Transaction management, and budgeting techniques and methods. Students exuberantly participated in the role-playing exercises, simulating real-world business scenarios to apply what they learned in a practical context.

The outcome of the coaching had a highly reach. Students elutriated a significant interest in learning financial concepts and expressed increased enthusiasm for the subjects. The interactive approach helped them to demystify commerce and accountancy, making them more approachable and engaging. The extension service successfully enhance the understandable and higher reach, equipping young minds with valuable knowledge and skills in commerce and accountancy.

Feedback indicated that the hands-on activities were particularly effective in reinforcing the material.
